Who should attend and why

This OS & OT Paper Development Workshop (PDW) seeks to provide developmental opportunities for academics who are engaged in research in the field of organization and management studies (from a social science tradition), advanced PhD students and early career scholars. The PDW will help participants develop their research and academic writing skills.

It also seeks to increase participants' awareness of the requirements, expectations, and procedures involved in the review processes at top peer-reviewed academic journals through presentations and first-hand discussion with established scholars and editors of Organization Studies and Organization Theory. This specific PDW is directly aimed at scholars from India (and South Asia, more broadly.)

In particular, we aim to support participants in developing their manuscripts into conference papers to be successfully submitted to events such as the EGOS Colloquium and/or the OMT Division of the Annual Meeting of the Academy of Management (such conference presentations are an important step towards publication) or to make existing manuscripts ready for submission to top-tier journals.

How to apply

Please submit:

- a) An extended abstract of an unpublished manuscript (min 1,500 – max. 2,500 words) that you wish to develop further and have discussed during the workshop. The abstract should include an explanation as to the purpose of the paper, the theoretical background and, for empirical papers, the methodological approach;
- b) A brief motivation letter explaining why you think you are a good candidate for this workshop, how you will benefit, and how the workshop fits your research interests and current stage of career.

Process

- (1) Expression of interest
- (2) Submission of extended abstract
- (3) Letter of acceptance to workshop
- (4) Revise and finalize paper
- (5) PDW

Upon acceptance to the workshop, participants will have the opportunity to revise and finalize their paper up to October 15, 2023.
